ST. PETERSBURG, June 9, 6:10 p. m.—A council of ministers presided over by the Emperor in person was held at Tsarskoe-Selo this afternoon to discuss the situation. His Majesty, a brother, Grand Duke Michael, who has arrived here from Berlin, is believed to be the bearer of a personal message from Emperor William advising the conclusion of peace.

HE TOLD ON THE WOMAN

Hottman Declares Mrs. Myers Killed Her Husband.

KANSAS CITY, June 9.—Frank Hottman, who is under sentence of death for his part in the crime, took the stand today at the trial of Mrs. Aggie Myers and told the part both he and the woman played in the atrocious murder of her husband, Clarence Myers. When Hottman faced the prisoner today it was the first time their eyes have met since the couple were arrested a year ago. Each stared at the other unmoved.

Hottman told of his planning with Mrs. Myers to kill Myers that they might marry. Mrs. Myers, he declared, had refused to elope with him, saying "she had to get rid of him."

"She told me," said Hottman, "of a friend of hers who had a husband she wanted to get rid of and while he was sick with typhoid fever she gave him some poison in his medicine and killed him."

Hottman said that he had at first refused to kill Myers, but consented finally after Mrs. Myers had repeatedly insisted. They planned the murder minutely and on the fatal night Hottman went to the Myers house and was met by Mrs. Myers. Myers was awake and the woman gave him something to put him asleep. After Myers had gone to sleep, Mrs. Myers struck him on the head with a billiard cue. Myers rose up in bed and called to her for help. The men then began a death struggle. Mrs. Myers then procured a bed slat and hit Myers. "She then went into the next room and got a razor and cut his throat," said Hottman.

While Hottman was telling this horrible story, Mrs. Myers sat unmoved watching the witness.

Hottman told of Mrs. Myers aiding him to get rid of the bloodstains and of her giving him money to flee from the city.

HYDE'S STOCK IS FOR SALE?

REPORT DENIED, THEN AFFIRMED.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The following statement was given out today at the Equitable Life Assurance Society offices on behalf of James H. Hyde: "Any statements to the effect that I intend to sell my stock in the Equitable is untrue."

Notwithstanding Mr. Hyde's denial, it is learned that negotiations for some form of transfer of the Hyde holdings are in progress.

The directors of the society will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A representative of the Hyde interests said today that the nominating committee already had decided upon a man to be proposed as chairman at today's meeting. He said that the name would not be revealed until the meeting, however, in order to prevent any action to defeat the plan of their committee.

Valentine P. Snyder, a director of the Equitable, and president of the National Bank of Commerce, was examined today by Superintendent Hendricks in the department's investigation of Equitable affairs.

LAWYER PATRICK IS TO HANG.

Court of Appeals Sustains the Verdict of Murder in the First Degree.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 9.—The Court of Appeals today by a divided count, voting four to three, sustained the lower courts in adjudging Albert T. Patrick, the New York lawyer, guilty of murder in the first degree, in causing the death of William Marsh Rice.

On April 7, 1902, Patrick was convicted on an indictment charging him with the murder of Rice by chloroform and mercury, administered to him during his sickness on September 28, 1900.

The case reached the Court of Appeals on March 14 of this year, when David B. Hill, who appeared for the appellant, based his argument for a reversal mainly on the contention that the condition of Rice's body revealed by the postmortem examination, might have been caused by fluids used in embalming.

The prevailing opinion is by Judge Gray, with whom concur Judges Bartlett, Haight and Warner. There is a dissenting opinion by Judge O'Brien, Chief Judge Cullen and Judge Vann, concurring. Chief Judge Cullen filing also a memorandum.

Patrick has succeeded in postponing the ultimate decision of his fate for over three years by a display of acumen and resourcefulness that has excited the wonder of the members of the bar, and the public at large.

The opinion of the court, written by Judge Gray, is very exhaustive, reviewing the formidable record in every detail and containing upwards of 16,000 words.

Judge Gray sets forth that the theory of the people was that the defendant had conspired with Charles F. Jones, the valet, or as sometimes called, the secretary of Rice, to kill Rice, and that the defendant also secured Jones to administer chloroform to him while he was asleep, in the accomplishment of their joint purpose.

This purpose, they say, was the motive of the desire to obtain possession of Rice's estate. Through a will in favor of the defendant and through various transfers to him of properties all purporting to have been executed by Rice, but which had in fact been forged by the defendant with Jones' aid.

The defense is based upon a denial that Rice's death was effected by violent means, or that it was by the procurement of the defendant and the proposition is advanced that the forgeries were not brought home to the defendant, or, if the evidence warranted the finding that they were, that that fact did not necessarily fasten upon him a criminal agency in the murder.

CITIZENS COMMITTEE TO BE NAMED.

Preliminary Work is Being Done at the City Hall This Afternoon.

A nucleus of the Citizens' Committee which Mayor Mott is to ask him help manage the affairs of state, is convening at the Mayor's chambers this afternoon. Those invited to be present are W. E. Dargie, of THE TRIBUNE; G. B. Daniels, of the Oakland Enquirer; J. C. Klein, of the Oakland Herald; H. C. Capwell, president of the Board of Trade; Edwin Stearns, secretary of the same organization, and A. H. Schlueter and Wilbur Walker, president and secretary of the Merchants' Exchange.

It is the intention of Mayor Mott to consult with these gentlemen relative to the additional members who will constitute the Citizens' Committee.

The object to be promoted by the committee will be the welfare of the city in general. All large matters pertaining to the city's interests, such as the building of a city hall, the acquirement of land for park purposes and the adornment of Lake Merritt, will be considered by the Committee. All the minor and petty matters will be handled by the regular departments of the city government so as not to hamper the Committee with details.

"If we can profit by the experience of previous administrations it seems as though we should accomplish something," said Mayor Mott this morning. "There are several things which can be learned from the mistakes of other attempts to improve the city. If these are observed there does not seem to me to be any reason why the work of improving Oakland from the shore line on the west to the hills on the east cannot be commenced. It is not my intention to center all efforts on one

BRUTAL CRIME AT VALLEJO

Body of a Young Man is Found By a Train Crew.

VALLEJO, June 9.—The body of an unknown man, who is believed to have been murdered, was found this morning by a train crew, lying beside the railroad track, a quarter of a mile this side of Suisun. At first the members of the train crew believed that the deceased had been run over, but on investigating found that his head had been battered to a pulp by a stick that was found close by covered with blood.

Most of the clothing had been stolen from the corpse, only the underwear, an outer shirt of dark material and the shoes being left.

The officers who are investigating the case believe the dead man may have been murdered by one of the prisoners who recently escaped from jail at Fairfax and took the opportunity of changing the clothing of his victor for prison garb.

There is no clue to the identity of the deceased, who had evidently been dead about ten hours when found. He was about 30 years of age and was five feet ten inches in height.

He was shot during the meeting, but has steadfastly refused to say who shot him, or to make a statement as to the cause of the shooting.

The forty other members of the union now under arrest are equally reticent. They were arraigned for a hearing before a magistrate today, and all refused to answer questions.

Detectives are working on the case.

PARDEE MEETS THE DELEGATES

Congressional Party is Inspecting Lands in South.

YUMA, Ariz., June 9.—Early this morning the Congressional party which is inspecting the irrigation systems in this section, reached Yuma, being met here by representatives of the State of California, headed by Governor Pardee. The visitors were first driven to the Blaisdell ranch on Yuma Heights, and through the alfalfa lands in the lower valley, where many beautiful orange groves and other fruit orchards were inspected. They then boarded the steamer Searchlight and viewed the site of the projected Laguna dam, across the Colorado river, twelve miles above Yuma, taking luncheon on the boat. At 9:30 tonight they will leave for Imperial.

INFORMAL RECEPTION.

At an informal reception at the headquarters of the Geological Survey, Mulford Winsor, president of the Water Users' Association, welcomed the party, and F. L. Ingram told of the history of the movement to reclaim the country, from the times of a people now extinct in the Gila Valley to the present. Recent experiments seemed to prove, he said, that irrigation with private capital was a failure.

SENATOR NEWLANDS.

Senator Newlands, of Nevada, spoke on behalf of the Congressional Committee on Irrigation. He praised the people of Yuma for their enterprise, and said they had done great work in reclaiming the desert, which was of benefit to the whole nation.

Regarding international questions, he favored building the needed dam first, and settling any possible disputes afterwards. "We are engaged in solving the railroad problem," he said in his address. "I believe it will be solved without government ownership, but if no other solution can be found, rest assured we will have government ownership." The Senator concluded by telling how the reclamation service had been divorced from politics and placed in the hands of competent scientists.

FIRST IN TIME.

Congressman Mondell, of Wyoming, chairman of the House Committee on Irrigation, said:

"First in time, is the basis of all irrigation law. As the water is being used in this country, and has never been used in Mexico, the people of this country have a right to use all the water in the Colorado river."

There were hot words this morning for Attorney Lemos and his partner delivered by Judge Mat J. Sullivan in Judge Ogden's court, in which he accused both men of violating the ethics of their profession. The "roast" was brought about by the fact that Lemos and his partner appeared as the counsel for the late Dr. Andy J. Dean of Hayward in a suit brought against him for malpractice in which a judgment was given against their client for $5,000 and that they are now appearing for one J. Gomez from whom they bought the judgment at a reduced figure and are attempting to collect the money from the late doctor's aged mother.

KANSAS DUST. "When Kansas was born she butted right into hard luck," declares the Lawrence Gazette, which brings an array of proof in support of its statement. "The war cyclone had its center here, and then there came the grasshoppers and the years of crop failures. "Then there was a dearth of corn in the nation, and Kansas took the contract for supplying the demand. So well was the job done that corn could not be sold and had to be used for fuel. From $1 a bushel it went down to 8 cents, and Kansas fields were covered with unsalable piles of it. "Then wheat got away up, and Kansas again took a contract to furnish wheat for all men. She broke the record of the world with her crops. Instead of getting a dollar a bushel, the price went down to 30 cents, which did not pay the cost of production. "Then Kansas changed her tactics and went into 'practical politics.' The populist wave buried the state, and immediately political stock went down until the commonwealth went broke on that commodity. "Then all at once something new happened. Oil from the earth was worth millions to the people who had it. Kansas dug down and found unlimited quantities. The wealth of Oil was at our feet. Thousands of wells went down and millions of barrels of oil came bubbling up. At once the price of oil went down until a barrel of it was worth less than a barrel of water at harvest time. The gas, too, which cost millions to the people of other States and communities, was found, only to be turned loose to poison the atmosphere and wreck the hopes of those who found it. "As a discoverer Kansas is a hoax. If we should dig gold in virgin purity that could be mined by the ton, gold would at once be demonized and sold as lead on the market. If a cave of diamonds should be discovered diamonds would be used for paving stones and be sold by the ton. Kansas is original, very original, but her originality has never brought anything for her save advertising space."

MRS. VIVA DOAN'S BIG GAIN SHOWN BY CENSUS

GIFTED DAUGHTER OF ADLEY H. CUMMINS PASSES AWAY IN NEW YORK.

The many friends of Mrs. Viva Doan in San Francisco and Oakland were grieved to learn of that talented lady's death in New York city last Sunday. The body is now on its way to Oakland and will be interred when it arrives in Mount View cemetery.

Mrs. Doan was the daughter of Adley H. Cummins, once private secretary to A. N. Towne, general manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad. Mr. Cummins was a writer of literary sketches and short stories, married Philip Verrill Mighels the well-known novelist and short story writer of this city and one-time editor of the San Francisco Sunday Chronicle. Mr. Mighels inherited his taste for literature, his father and mother both being gifted writers.

Mrs. Doan thus grew up in an atmosphere of literary cultivation and possessed all the charm that mental gifts allied to beauty and sweetness of disposition can impart. She was a general favorite in the refined circle in which she moved.

ALL RUSSIA IS PREPARED BY GOVERNMENT FOR PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Powers of the World Pleased With the Action of President Roosevelt.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 9, 11:35 a. m.—The government is plainly preparing the public for the announcement that the Emperor has decided to conclude peace, and that the negotiations have been begun by permitting the publication of all the foreign dispatches bearing on the subject.

The newspapers and the Russian public, however, have until now only had a suspicion that important moves were going on behind the scenes. In well informed circles it is believed that Japan already has instructed Field Marshal Oyama to stay his hand pending the result of the present tentative negotiations, and that General Linewitch also has been confidently urged on.

Nevertheless, the irreconcilable remnants of the war party are believed to be urging the Russian commander-in-chief to assume the offensive in the hope of achieving a victory, and thus change the Emperor's present disposition in favor of the conclusion of hostilities.

If such an intrigue is in progress it has no chance of success. It can be assumed that there will be no further bloodshed in Manchuria until the belligerents have decided whether it is now possible to agree on peace terms. The government in the present emergency is acting with great wisdom. It is preparing to time the proclamation of a national assembly with the announcement that peace negotiations have begun.

The committee of Ministers is hurrying its examination of the Boulogne Rescript Commission's project for the Gosdarsvinnala Duma, Imperial duma scheme already outlined in these dispatches, its consideration having commenced yesterday and continuing today.

NO ALTERATIONS.

Practically no alterations are being made in the text and the Associated Press learns from a prominent Russian statesman conversant with the situation that the review of the Boulogne Commission project is purely formal as a manifesto promulgating a law giving the Russian people a voice in legislation is already drafted.

The informant of the Associated Press claims to have seen the original and he expects the law to be proclaimed early next week. Evidence accumulates that President Roosevelt's efforts in behalf of peace have been supported by almost every European power by the transmission through their representatives at the belligerents' respective capitals, that it is the solemn conviction of their respective governments that the time has arrived for the warring countries to conclude peace.

The President's endeavors seem limited to bringing the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan together to arrange the preliminary terms for the conclusion of a limited armistice and the selection of a place for future negotiations and the plenipotentiaries, in the opinion of the diplomats, will make the next move, as it is not believed Japan will divulge her terms until the plenipotentiaries meet.

European powers expressed the opinion to the Associated Press that the exchanges would not occur either at Washington or at any European capital, but upon the battlefield in Manchuria.

WANT IT DIRECT.

"Both Russia and Japan desire to conduct the negotiations direct," said the Ambassador. "Where is there a better place than Manchuria, which is beyond the sphere of outside influence, in practically neutral territory, and is in direct communication with the respective capitals? Linewitch and Oyama, confronting each other upon the field where they fought, could arrange the preliminaries."

"Once the main principles as to the indemnity, the status of Sakhalin and Vladivostok, and the question of the Russian ships in neutral waters in the Far East are adjusted, all other questions could easily be settled."

PLEASED WITH ROOSEVELT

LONDON, June 9, 1:30 p. m.—Much satisfaction is expressed in official and diplomatic circles here at the apparent success of President Roosevelt in bringing Russia and Japan together for the purpose of ending the war.

Since his arrival here Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, has been in close and frequent communication with the Foreign Office.

The Ambassador is not willing at the present juncture to disclose the result of his visits, but apparently he is well pleased with the progress of negotiations, as after a busy week socially and officially, the Ambassador and Mrs. Reid leave London tomorrow to spend the week-end with Earl Egerton of Tatton and his wife, the Duchess of Buckingham and Chandos, at Tatton Park, Knutsford, Cheshire.

The other embassies are without any information. Russia official circles now think that peace is probable or at least that a cessation of hostilities is pending in an endeavor to bring about a meeting of representatives of the two powers.

It is pointed out in best informed circles that from the first Russia declared her preference of negotiating with Japan direct, and President Roosevelt apparently is acting on that line in arranging the preliminaries for direct negotiations between Japan and Russia.

LETTER FOR THE EMPEROR

PARIS, June 9, 1:10 p. m.—M. Bompard, the French Ambassador to Russia, returns to St. Petersburg tomorrow after a lengthy conference with President Loubet at the Foreign Office, in which it is understood the peace situation was fully considered. This will place the Ambassador in a position to co-operate strongly in the pacific efforts of the United States, and it is intimated that he may carry an autograph letter from M. Loubet to Emperor Nicholas along lines similar to President Roosevelt's message. The general feeling here continues hopeful, the officials considering that the Emperor's hesitation and Japan's military extremes are the chief obstacles remaining.

WISH SUCCESS TO NEW GOVERNMENT

SERIOUS CHARGE.

Peter R. Johnson, a driver employed by Fred Beck, a baker at 622 East Thirty-third street, has been arrested on a serious charge preferred by Katie Judd, a 14-year-old girl of Hayward, who was with Beck when he was shot.

LABEL LEAGUE BAND TO DRUM UP TRADE VICTIM

MANY MEMBERS OF UNIONS ARE PRESENT AT ENTERTAINMENT.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Label League in California Hall last night there was a very pleasant evening passed. The public was invited and there were many strangers present who were entertained. Dancing, games, and a program were among the attractions.

The officers of the league were installed early in the evening by C. W. Petry, the organizer of the American Federation of Labor. Those placed in office were as follows: President, Miss May Hampton, vice-president, Miss Maybelle Overton; treasurer, Mrs. E. B. O'Brien; secretary, Mrs. Belle L. West; conductor, Mrs. C. E. Blake; warden, Miss Hazel Blake; executive board—C. W. Petry, Mrs. J. C. Curran, Miss Little Osterloh.

After the installation, the program of literary and musical numbers followed. There was a vocal solo by Miss Ethel Petry, an address by Mrs. May Hampton, a recitation by Mrs. Robert West, and speeches by C. W. Petry, J. F. Marshall, J. G. Lawlor, and others.

Dancing followed the program and refreshments were served later. All enjoyed the entertainment.

INITIATE SEVENTEEN.
Far from being discouraged by the strike of the Cooks' and Waiters' Union, the men and women of the craft are seeking entrance to the roll of membership. Seventeen were initiated last night, eight of them being girls from the Cottage Restaurant which was unionized only yesterday. Twenty applications were received and accepted.

After considering the different aspects of the strike situation and making plans for continuing the contest, the members adjourned, a large number of them going to the entertainment of the Ladies' Label League.

MATERIAL TEAMSTERS.
Local 577 of the Material Teamsters' Union held an interesting meeting last night. A report was brought in by William Warner, the business agent, that the Fruitvale Lumber Yard had been unionized within the past week, and the applications of the hands for admission to the union were sent in at the same time. This leaves only one "unfair" lumber yard in Fruitvale.

It was unanimously decided to send $200 to the striking teamsters in Chicago to assist them in carrying out their fight.

Two new members were received by initiation.

DISINTERESTED.
"Are you in favor of an extra session of Congress?" "Yes," answered Farmer Cortness. "We sent a letter to Congress to keep him out of this neighborhood, and I'm in favor of anything that'll promote that object."

WASHINGTON STREET MERCHANTS PLAN SATURDAY NIGHT CONCERT.

Now that the cars do not bring the Saturday night shoppers to their doors, the merchants on Washington street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, are putting on their thinking caps. On Saturday evening of this week they are to have a band stationed near Fourteenth street to attract the curious as well as trade, with sweet tones of music.

This course was necessitated by the temporary action of the Oakland Traction Consolidated in abandoning Fourteenth street for the time being, while the new broad-gauge tracks are being laid, and the turning of the West Eighth street cars into Thirteenth street, so that they now run to Webster street and take many passengers to Broadway.

As soon as this was done the merchants on Washington street in the block mentioned noticed a falling off in the Saturday night trade and they organized into a ways and means committee and have decided on the band project, which, if profitable, will be given each Saturday night.

MUNICIPAL CHILD BEARING.
Since the Mayor of Huddesfield (Alderman Benjamin Broadbent), brother of Sir William Broadbent, made his remarkable offer of $1 to every infant born in the district of Longwood during his Mayoralty and eventually reared to the age of twelve months, the health authorities in the borough have seriously taken up the possibilities of successful child-rearing. A scheme was adopted by the corporation yesterday which provides that payment of 1s. shall be made to the first person notifying the medical officer of health of the birth of a child within forty-eight hours of such birth. The medical officer is to draw up for circulation among parents detailed advice to mothers and draw public attention to the subject of infantile mortality, and two lady health visitors are to be appointed. Further, a day nursery is to be experienced with for twelve months, at which milk will be supplied specially for feeding infants under one year of age.

The mayor of the borough has had considerable influence in drafting the scheme. His great point is that many motherhood are employed in the mills are not able to feed their infants properly owing to following industrial employment. Inferior milk being used as a substitute for natural food has unnecessarily caused many losses of life.

A PERFECT DAY.

O day divine! O day divine! When the warm sunlight thrills like wine, And earth and air and sky of blue, All seem to us as born anew! When every step and every sight Fill with unspeakable delight, When we, all winter-grown and sage, Come once more to youth's heritage, Touch hands with hope, with rapture reel, Forget to think, begin to feel! —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

AN EVENING THOUGHT.
Just whistle if the day be dark
And the sky be overcast;
If mute be the voice of the piping lark,
Why, pipe your own small blast.

Just whistle a bit if there's work to do
With the mind or in the sail;
And your note will turn out talliesman true
To exorcise grim Toil.

ARGUMENTS MADE IN THE HANGS
MAESTRETTI CASE.Ex-Governor Budd Makes a Strong Appeal For the Defendant.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The announcement that the arguments of ex-Governor Budd and District Attorney Byington would be made in the Maestretti case served to bring to the Hall of Justice this morning an immense assemblage anxious to hear the final discussion of the advocates.

Budd's Address.
Ex-Governor James H. Budd, at the opening of the session, commenced his argument. He said that any questions asked by him relative to the Citizens' Alliance or Merchants' Association or the San Francisco Republican League during the time the jury was being impaneled were not intended to cast reflections. It had simply been the purpose to arrive at such feelings and interests of the talesmen as might stand in the way of a fair and honest verdict. He was sure that a jury had been secured that would find honestly the facts and return its verdict accordingly. There were few facts adduced in the case, and it should not be a difficult matter to arrive at a decision.

Budd criticized Judge Ferra for "appealing to the prejudice of jurors." He referred to Witness Silberstein and Podd as "Siamese twins with a private detective intestine."

SCORES WITNESSES.
Budd denied with much vehemence that the defense had relied upon a technicality in order to save Maestretti. He declared that his client was ready to submit his fate on the testimony openly adduced.

Silberstein and Podd, after seventeen days at Tocaloma, under the shadow of San Quentin, came here and swore that the only time that Maestretti ever spoke to them concerning their testimony in the Wyman case was during the preliminary examination. But when their minds were called distinctively to the facts they remembered and testified positively that the meeting in Countryman's office was long after the preliminary examination of Wyman. DISLIKES GRAND JURY.

Budd referred to the Grand Jury as the "new Council of Venice sitting in a back room in the Mills building," declaring that Witness Silberstein had been called before officers of that body and threatened with the rock pile. The attorney adverted to the character of Silberstein and Podd, and said that the accusations made by such men were not worthy of consideration. Their word was not to be taken against the word of "a man like Maestretti, who has lived in this city thirty-five years, and against whose life no reflection has ever before been cast. Would you convict even a private detective, much less a dog, on such testimony?" he asked.

Budd referred to private detectives as "human lice delving in the underwear of the community and sucking the substance from the ulcers of society." He intimated that private detectives had tampered with Silberstein and Podd, and he also added that those witnesses had been hauled up into that private den (meaning the Grand Jury office) in the Mills building.

All Silberstein and Podd could state definitely concerning the meeting in Countryman's office, said Budd, was that it took place on the 27th of September. He laid great stress upon the point that such a feat of memory upon the part of such men was impossible. There were not two men in a hundred, he said, who could remember dates. The mind clings to circumstances, but not to dates. He asked the jury how many could remember the date when President Roosevelt visited San Francisco, or the month, or even the year in which President McKinley was shot.

Budd continued with very vehemence to argue that it would have been impossible for Podd and Silberstein to remember the date of the meeting in Countryman's office.

Through Town--
Heavy Loss.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 9.—The body of Miss Wavell Cunningham, a young woman of Pendleton, Oregon, was discovered in a down town lodging house this afternoon. She had committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas.

Some time ago Miss Cunningham purchased some jewelry of a local firm, giving in payment a check which was disputed at the bank. Miss Cunningham was traced to San Francisco and arrested.

The case was compromised, however, Miss Cunningham returned from San Francisco last night. It is thought that she was despondent over the disgrace resulting from her acts.

HUSBAND TRIED TO SHOOT HER

ONE IS KILLED;
ANOTHER WOUNDED

LIVINGSTON, Mont., June 9.—In ten minutes today water destroyed $50,000 worth of property here. For three hours all the business district was flooded. Rain fell like water pouring from a bucket. A wall of water four feet high came down the narrow valley, tore up the track and when it reached the station the stream was 100 feet wide and two feet deep.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Mrs. Laura W. Comyns told Judge Graham today how her husband, Thomas L. Comyns, tried to shoot her, and was given an interlocking decree of divorce by the court.

The decree was granted when the husband drank to excess he was a dangerous man. One evening, about a year ago, he let the servant go out and while engaged in cooking the evening meal she felt some one grab her from behind. In an instant she recognized her husband, who she thought she was going to say to say them, as he was going to kill her.

Mrs. Comyns then related how she argued and talked to her husband until he dropped his arm and then struck the pistol from his hand. It rolled down stairs and both rushed down to get it. But neither could find it, as it had fallen behind a hatrack, where she found it the next day.

Mr. Comyns is a member of the firm of Comyns & Childers, metal roofers, at 41 Valencia street. He lives at 1508 Locust street. The couple have married and have six children, all of whom are away at school. The wife was given into the custody of the father with the proviso that they spend their vacations with the mother.

MCGEE, I. T., June 9.—Z. I. Griffin, a druggist, was shot and killed and Fred Griffin was wounded here today, and as a result, Dr. I. N. Norris, a physician, has been placed in jail. Details of the affair are not known.

Wilson Howard Pays
the Penalty For Murder.

SAN JOSE, June 9.—Wilson Howard, who was hanged today at San Quentin, was sentenced to death for the brutal killing of Andrew Sauer on the evening of February 27, 1903.

Sauer was a swill gatherer, who lived alone on the northern outskirts of the city. He became acquainted with Howard while the latter was employed as a waiter at the Erlson boarding house, and he admitted one day that he had a small hoard of money in his possession. A short time thereafter the body of the old man was discovered lying in a vacant field near his home with a bullet wound over the heart.

Suspicion at once attached to Howard, who was traced to San Francisco and taken into custody in a negro den on the Barbary Coast. After his departure from this city he had purchased a soldier's uniform, and he was thus garbed when the officers found him. He had also spent considerable money in seeing the sights and he could give no good account of the source of his sudden wealth.

Soon after Howard was brought back to San Jose he broke down under rigorous sweating and made a full confession of the crime. He said that he had gone to Sauer's house for the purpose of robbing the old man and had made a pretense to arrest him. At the point of a revolver he had taken the old man and until the field was reached, and had then compelled the old man to turn over all his money, cash, which amounted to about $150, had changed Sauer was deliberately shot down and the tracks of the murderer hurriedly

CHARLES BAILEY'S FUNERAL.
The funeral of Charles A. Bailey, a capitalist of Oakland, who met a most tragic end in the Yosemite Valley by falling to his death from the top of El Capitan, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Fourteenth and Franklin streets.

Rev. Nash of Alameda conducted the funeral services.

Before the funeral reached the church private services were held at the family residence, 1687 Harrison street.

There was a great confusion of floral offerings sent to the home and to the church, the flowers lining from the church roll to the hilt and were very beautiful.

The Men's League of the First Presbyterian Church of which the deceased was at one time president, attended the funeral in large numbers. Many other friends of the late capitalist were also present.

The music was under the direction of Clement Rollins, leader of the church choir.

Rev. Nash spoke beautifully of the departed, dwelling upon his fine characteristics, which had endeared him to a large circle of friends. The philanthropy of the deceased was also dwelt on by the minister.

The pall-bearers were, William Ingram, J. H. Richards, J. T. H. Gage, D. C. Borland and D. E. Ward Collins.

The interment was strictly private.

JAPANESE FLOWER CULT.
The study of floral arrangement in Japan corresponds to the study of music and painting in this country, but because the artistic feeling is deeper, older, more instinctive, with the Japanese, artistic accomplishments are more widespread. Every well-born person in Japan has a knowledge of fine arts.

The general ideas of floral arrangement may be summarized in this way: Each setting of flowers or plants must represent a scene in nature, or a scene on earth and man. In placing blossoms in a vase, the vase and water are earth, the short stemmed flowers man, and the tall ones heaven. The ramifications of this principle, the delicate subtle meanings and properties are infinite.

There are flowers which represent days, and as every Japanese house contains flowers, they form a calendar for the initiated.

Every family of standing has artistically correct vases, vasescorders, and flowers, and the manner of entertaining an honored visitor is to ask him to arrange some flowers. The guest is governed by rigid laws.

He must not make too elaborate an arrangement, for that takes overmuch time. He always offers to destroy what he has done to prove he considers it valueless. Only when he is urged by his host does he leave it—these are examples of the long list of restrictions. The Japanese knows them, he knows his language and his literature.

TRAINING KINGS.
The forty-two foot brig which is now being fitted up at Chatham by order of King Edward at a miniature replica of the old British navy training ships, and the fact that Commander William H. Water at Windsor, where King Edward and his brothers Alfred and Arthur had plenty of fun as youngsters. Unless I am much mistaken, it was placed there by George IV at about the time when he sent the Royal Louise to Potsdam. It became afloat some time ago with the dry rot, and I understand that the new frigate now being built at Chatham for King Edward is to take its place.

PAXTON
PLEADS POVERTY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Blitz W. Paxton pleaded poverty today in the suit of Bessie Paxton to compel the rich banker to support his two children, Roma W. Paxton and John A. Paxton, on trial before Judge Graham. An affidavit was read signed by the banker, in which he stated he had lost all his money in oil ventures, and so was unable to contribute to the support of the children.

The contract made nearly eleven years ago between husband and wife was read, in which Blitz Paxton agreed to pay Bessie Paxton $100 a month for the support of their two children. The contract expires by limitation next month, and it is to have this allowance kept up until the son and daughter are now suing.

Charles Hanlon, counsel for the children, will show that Mr. Paxton still has plenty of property to keep the wolf from the door. He says John A. Paxton, the father of Blitz Paxton, and grand father of John A. Paxton, the boy who is suing, left a large estate, and Blitz Paxton secured a large share of it, which was appraised at $355,756.62, and which included the Madonna Knoll ranch, appraised at $100,000, and for which $25,000 has been offered, thereby making the estate worth nearly half a million dollars.

John A. Paxton, the son, was placed on the witness stand. He is totally blind and has been so since he was an infant. At the morning session he was not allowed to testify on objection Mr. O'Connell, attorney for Mr. Paxton, was still on the stand when the noon adjournment was taken.

WOODMAN, CLERK IN COURT.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—John T. O'Donnell, ex-clerk of Golden Gate Camp, Woodman of the World, who is said to have embezzled $5,000 from the camp, was arraigned today before Judge Canabara. The case will come up a week from today to be set.

THE MODERN WAY.
The young mother of a certain very lively three-year-old recently said to me:

"I think it sometimes pays to let children get a stamp and say ugly things to their heart's content. There seems to be about so much wickedness in them, and if you let them blow it off at once—preferably in the morning—your part of getting out of their systems and are all the better for it. A few mornings ago my small boy awoke in the ugliest mood I have seen him in for many a day. I could do nothing with him, he was so touchy and belligerent. I understood that to correct him for some flagrant misdemeanor would set his feet defiantly and call me a 'dirty old thing'—a phrase which he had picked up from some playmate."

I presume, and which I tried hard to make him quit saying. On this particular morning I had so many things to do that I could not stop to fight it out with him, so I shut him in a closet, telling him I would not let him out until he was quiet and good. For at least ten minutes he stood in there stamping violently on the floor, pounding the door with all his might, and yelling 'dirty old thing' at the top of his voice, and as fast as he could make his tongue go. He must have repeated that phrase five hundred times. Then suddenly he stopped, and in the next instant called out in a cheery tone:

"I feel just like being better now. 'Let him out and he ran to me, all smiles, and, putting his little arms round my neck, said: 'I wanted to be made him quieting down. DISAPPEARANCE OF LIEUT.
TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Young Officer on Board the Rush May Have Been Murdered.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—The mystery surrounding the strange disappearance of Lieutenant William G. Biasedel of the revenue cutter Rush deepened today, and a special board has been convened to investigate the case. L. G. Biasedel of Los Angeles states that from a conversation held with the officers of the Rush he is satisfied that his brother has been murdered and his body dropped over the side of the ship, where the strong current carried it out to sea.

Biasedel scouts the idea that the officer deserted from the ship, and says that the latter was so well satisfied that when the Lieutenant made a request to be allowed to remain with the Rush, it is the opinion of Biasedel that his brother was struck over the head by some man who bore him a grudge, and he afterwards dropped over the ship's side by means of a rope. He believes that this theory is reasonable, inasmuch as none of the watch heard the splash, and they certainly would have done had the Lieutenant fallen overboard. Tuesday night was extraordinarily quiet, and any splash or call for help would have been heard on board the ship.

ADVANCES MURDER THEORY.
In an interview today, Biasedel said: "From the reports that I have received regarding my brother's disappearance, I am inclined to believe that he was murdered by some person aboard the Rush. I think that a thorough investigation will reveal the truth." "Do you think that it might not have been a case of suicide?" he was asked. "Such a thing is ridiculous. He was not of a gloomy disposition and was a thing never entered his head. His account with the government were straight and I am positive that if they had not been so, I would have known something about it."

"Will was always a jolly fellow and there was no reason why he should have wished to take his own life. He had a wife and baby to whom he was devoted and he looked forward with pleasure to the day when they would join him. Mrs. Biasedel is now on her way to San Francisco, where she expects to join her husband, having heard nothing of his disappearance. We have not been able to communicate with her since she left New Orleans and we fear to break the news to her."

"Do you think your brother might have fallen overboard?" he was asked. "I am sure that he did not. Everything points against that. He was a strong swimmer and could easily have reached the ship after having fallen into the water, and if he had found himself being carried out by the tide his call for help would have been heard on board."

HE NEVER DESERTED.
"It has been stated by some that Will might have deserted the ship, and I want to show you how ridiculous such a story is. He was on board a ship where he was well liked and where he wanted to remain. He was drawing a good salary from the government. He was well known in the East and any tourist who had seen him would be able to recognize him. Of course, you know, punishment for deserters from the revenue service is severe and means disgrace. Does it seem reasonable that my brother would wish to run away from his ship, having done no wrong, and that he would leave his wife and baby suffering because of any thing he had done? Of course men have done those things before, but they are not a human being, and I am sure that Will never will again be seen alive."

THIS MAN HAS MANY VICTIMS.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—William H. Massey, a plausible confidence operator, is in the City Prison, and will be booked on two charges of embezzlement. The arresting officers, Detectives Mulcahey and Matheson, say the prisoner has victimized at least one hundred and fifty persons since his arrival in San Francisco two weeks ago, but so far they have been unable to find two who would swear to complaints against him.

Massey claims to own a vast tract of land in Lake county, which he is anxious to trade for city realty. Owing to the fact that he is short of funds, he is unable to complete a deal which he is just on the eve of closing, and he resorts to sales of his victims, with whom he makes acquaintances, which will be repaid with interest just as soon as the deal is closed. This money is always for the purpose of securing an abstract of title, and for that reason the complainants who have accused his arrest charge embezzlement.

Complaints against Massey were sworn to before Police Judge Morgan this morning by Anna Collier of 418 Kearny street and W. C. Vanderbrook of 153 1/2 Fifth street. He will be booked this afternoon.

THREE LABORERS INJURED.
SANTA CRUZ, June 9.—A horrible accident occurred last night at the Santa Cruz Lime Company's chute up the coast, where three laborers were buried beneath a car lost with wheels.

They were on the cliff at a curve in the chute used for leading vessels, and were between the chute and an eight-foot pile of wood. A car loaded with wood started from the top of the chute and the brake got beyond the control of the man handling it. The car shot down the grade and at the curve it jumped the track.

Louis Garfield, who had been at work only two days, had his skull crushed, the flesh removed from the right side of his skull and his right leg broken in three places. He died before he could be removed. It is thought that he will not recover.

Benji had his right arm broken at the hand, the left arm at the shoulder and left leg broken, and received a bad cut on the back of his head.

Pietros had his right leg broken in two places and his left arm broken and he was taken to the hospital.

Three physicians spent nearly all night with them at the Railroad Exchange, whether they were taken in this city.

A Square Deal

President Roosevelt says he believes in giving every man a square deal. So do we. So does every other far-sighted person. A square deal in shoes means a dollar's worth of real value for every hundred cents you pay us—and that is just what we're prepared to give.

You will be surprised to find how far a little money will go at our store towards filling your footwear needs. That's because we use extreme care in selecting our stock, buy from reliable manufacturers only, and take care that there's as much durability and comfort as style and elegance in our shoes.

Try a pair of our men's Savoy $3.50 Shoes or our women's Savoy $2.50 Shoes if you want to know what a "square deal" really is. Step in today.

HOSPITALS FOR EMPLOYEES

PLAN OF RAILROAD FOR WORKMEN AND FAMILIES IS GOOD ONE.

The Union Pacific Railroad is about to re-establish its hospital service deducting for its support, 50 cents per month from the wages of all employees and supplying from its own treasury whatever more is required. For this payment of $6 per year all employees and their families will be entitled to free medical and surgical attendance, medicine, appliances and nursing. This is a marvelously cheap medical service for a family. All the great railroad systems are coming to adopt this plan of caring for their employees but in no previous case we believe has so much been offered for so little money. Labor unions do not as a rule take kindly to compulsory insurance of any kind whose management is controlled by their employers but the only really serious objection made to this particular form of insurance is the alleged custom of the railroad authorities in case of serious injury to employees for which the companies would be liable of cajoling the injured while under their care into settlements for nominal sums. Probably the railroads would claim that injured employees had far less to fear from that than from unscrupulous attorneys who would get hold of their cases and absorb for themselves whatever might be collected.

But insurance ought not to stop with provision for medical attention when ill and yet it is evident that for a large class of men and women there will be no insurance if it is not compulsory. Under the pressure of the temptations of modern civilization the ratio of the thriftless is probably increasing. Every able-bodied person ought to set aside some portion of his earnings—whether they be great or small—for provision for old age and if he will not do so voluntarily he should be compelled. Some railroad companies have attempted to compel their employees to insure themselves and the companies have been willing to contribute to the fund. Employees have ever have usually objected to this on the ground that as a rule they were already carrying as much insurance as they could afford, and also that the plans as proposed were usually unjust in that discharge from the service might forfeit the insurance after age or infirmity had rendered other insurance difficult or impossible. In some of these plans however employees leaving the service for any cause are entitled to the surrender value of whatever they had themselves contributed but not to any part of the company's contribution. As the country gets older this question of universal insurance will become more and more pressing. In Germany insurance of workmen is compulsory and is controlled by the state which collects the assessment from employers. There is nothing socialistic about that so long as each individual pays for his own insurance from his own earnings, the state merely acting as custodian, manager and guarantor. In various forms many nations of Continental Europe are compelling provision for old age or for dependents at death. It is a matter upon which action in this country will soon be imperatively demanded.—San Francisco Chronicle.

JUST CRACK A JOKE AND WHISTLE UP A SONG
With apologies to Rudyard Kipling by "The Major"

When the road your feet is treadin'
Keeps a crookin' and a spreadin'
Till it seems as if it's most uncommon long

Don't let your chin lip quiver
Though your knees be all a-shiver
Just crack a joke and whistle up a song

When the clouds begin to thicken
And the lightning a dashin' and a-flickin'
Luka Lucifer gone wrong
Raise your feet a little higher
And step a little spryer
And crack a joke and whistle up a song

Don't forget it for a minute
That other folks are in it
As deep as you may be and not as strong

And when your journey's ended
And your soul stands undefended
While recording angels foot up columns long
You will find your head was level
That you bounced the devil
By your joking and whistling up a song

WARSHIPS PUT OUT OF BUSINESS

Failed to Leave American Waters on Schedule Time.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Secretary Taft has received the following telegram from Governor Wright at Manila:

Russian warships did not leave harbor within the required twenty-four hours. As a result are now in custody of Admiral Train who informs me he has taken the necessary steps to intern them. They are now being broken up under the guns of the Ohio and Monarch. He will disable their machinery and remove breech locks of guns. He has doubtless reported full details to Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Rear Admiral Train has reported to the Navy Department that the Russian ships at Manila have been interned. In addition to the information conveyed in Governor Wright's telegram Rear Admiral Train said that the coal supply of the ships has been limited and the officers and men paroled upon condition that they take no further part in the war.

THESE WOMEN WANT DIVORCES

Suit for divorce was begun this morning by Attorney Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento for Louisa M. Fessler against Frank Fessler on the ground of desertion and cruelty. According to statements of the wife her husband has been habitually intemperate and while in states of intoxication has abused her and threatened her life.

Elizabeth G. Stenzel has brought an action for divorce against C. L. Stenzel whom she charges with failure to provide the necessities of life for her. They have several small lots of land in Egan Township which she states were purchased by money that was a gift from her brother and her own earnings and she asks that these be declared separate property and what ever other relief the court may deem fit and proper.

TO FILE BRIEF IN PROCTOR CASE

The brief in the appeal of Doctor William Proctor under sentence to serve six years in the State Prison for having robbed Mrs. Emily Tyson of Niles is to be filed with the Supreme Court today. A stay of execution has been granted Proctor until the point raised by Attorneys Aldrich and Gentry which is that Proctor was found guilty of larceny when in reality the charge against him should have been obtaining money under false pretenses can be passed upon Judge Melvin granted the necessary stay, holding the question to be a very close one. It is thought probable that the case will be referred to the new Court of Appeals and that a decision will not take long.

Eliza Hall to whom every day is now a wintery day this morning sentenced to serve six months in the city prison by Police Judge Smith on a charge of vagrancy. She was given three days additional for good measure on a charge of drunkenness.

Eliza has a very red nose, which has been painted by the great realist John Barlowe and in view of the frequency with which she has been sentenced for drunkenness during the last three years Police Judge Smith three days ago tried to get her out of Oakland. He gave her three hours in which to leave Oakland for ever with the warning that if she came back again under the penalty of going to jail for the limit. Eliza probably to grow her sorrow at being banished from Oakland immediately got drunk and this morning was given the reward that was promised her.

She states that she has not been near the Yore home since her release nor seen any of them.

PRES. ROOSEVELT VISITS FRIENDS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Roosevelt left here at 11:17 o'clock this forenoon for a short visit to friends in Virginia.

WHEN UMPIRE STARTS THE GAME.
We've lost our appetite for pie, our thirst
We've even ceased to sing our love to a certain little dear,
Our love is pale and dead, our footsteps slow and lame
For we're waiting for that dear old cry,
Please, umpire, start the game.

Six months we've waited for the call and waited in vain,
The coin the magnates did not get was counted as small gain
Our memory lingers behind our thoughts,
But we've even forgot our name,
But all the world will smile once more when the umpire starts the game.

You'll see us there in all our gilt, the fair
girl by our side,
We'll root and yell and whoop and roar
and join the screaming tide,
We'll mix with prince and pauper, for all the moments of the game
On that great annual holiday when the umpire starts the game.

We have a friend named George Tebeau,
a cynic of the world,
To get a team of stellar lights his thousands he has hurled
He sits and waits, and all the time his thoughts are all the same
For no more dollars come to him till the umpire starts the game.

Ten thousand fans all stand in line and finger out their gold thousand tickets in the box, and every pasteboard sold,
Tebeau, ourselves, the fans, the girl, our jealous rooting frame
We're listening for that magic call, "The umpire starts the game!"

wives.

ALFONSO'S VISIT.
Like Edward VII, young Alfonso XIII bears the title of Emperor of India, and it is interesting to recall in connection with his arrival in England recently that it will be the first occasion that a King of Spain has set his foot on English soil since the days of Philip II, who married Queen Mary of England, the elder sister and predecessor of Queen Elizabeth on the English throne. King Philip was the son of Emperor Charles V, and was justly held responsible for many of those cruelties perpetrated by his English consort, and which won for her the name of "Bloody Mary." Of course, when Mary died the English would have nothing more to do with him, and it was then that he sent the ill-fated armada against England. Had the armada succeeded in its object, as Philip confidently expected it would, he intended to follow it at once to England and to take possession of the English throne as the heir of his dead wife. King Alfonso comes to England under different conditions.

ME TOO

The "Tail Enders" That Follow Genuine Articles.

It is sometimes interesting to watch the curves imitators make to get the public to buy imitations of genuine goods.

Every now and then some one will think there is a splendid opening to fix up something like Postum Coffee and advertise the same way and take some of the business.

An imitator is naturally ignorant of food values and how to scientifically make a cereal coffee, on scientific lines. Such men first think of preparing something that looks and tastes like the original, with no knowledge of how the grains should be treated to prepare them so that the starchy part is transformed properly and the valuable nourishing elements made digestible.

Such imitations may be foisted on the public for a short time but the people are critical and soon detect the attempt, then the imitators go out of business.

Something like 400 of these little factories have been started in various parts of this country in the past nine years and, practically all of them have gone the "long journey." Just lately a new one has come to life and evidently hopes to insert itself in public favor by copying the style of the Postum advertising in the papers.

This is a free country and every man who makes an honest product and honestly labels it, has reason for some recognition, but the public has the right to know the facts.

Postum is the one original and genuine Cereal Coffee, made skillfully and for a definite purpose. It has stood through all the wars of the imitators, has won the approval of the physicians and the people.

People who really seek to free themselves from the coffee habit and at the same time to rebuild the soft gray matter in the nervous system, break down by coffee, can rely on Postum.

There's a reason.

Late Arrivals from the East

We have received a late shipment of over two hundred men's and young men's Dressy Business Suits that should have been here thirty days ago. These goods were bought to retail for $12.50 and $15.00 and would be good, honest values at those prices, but owing to the lateness of the season and the extended cool weather, we shall place them on sale commencing Saturday, June 10th, at that little price.

The graduating exercises of the Fruitvale Avenue School No. 2 took place last night and were largely attended. The following program was rendered: Piano solo, Frisilla Rutt, salutary Thomas Carroll local solo, Dona Bradley, address Superintendent T. O. Crawford, remarks Professor M. M. Rosier reading, Alice McCarter piano solo, Principal Paul Marford, speech Warren Guthrie.

WAGERS ON THE WAR

Some extraordinary bets have been made on the Japanese-Russian war. A number of Japanese officers have bet that they would be killed in battle. The money was to go to their widows. One officer on starting for the front, made the following wager. If he were killed within a month his heirs were to receive $500. After that date he was to pay his opponent 10 yen ($2 a day) until he had survived 100 days, after which the bet was to cease. He undertook to expose himself to danger only when military conditions demanded it, in other words he was not willing to let himself be killed.

In a moment of excitement Lomakin, a Moscow merchant, undertook to "eat his boots" if Japan were not forced to sue for peace by July 1 last. Against this his opponent bet 500 roubles. Lomakin ate the boots. But as no time limit was imposed he cut off and swallowed only a tiny strip each day, completing the achievement on November 20. His opponent absolved him from eating the nails.

A captive Japanese officer, imprisoned at Omsk, in Siberia, bet the Russian officer in charge of the prisoners a ko-peck for every minute that Fort Arthur held out after June 1. He owed the dealer on October 1 nearly $1,000. The Russian asked for a payment on account and offered to terminate the bet. The Japanese said nothing, retired to his room and shot himself dead with a revolver.

HAD A TALK WITH SULTAN

FEZ, Morocco, Wednesday, June 7.—Gerald A. Lowther, the British Minister to Morocco, had an hour's private audience with the Sultan today and the political situation was fully threshed out. The cordiality of the Sultan's ruler noticeably differed from his attitude at the official reception of the British Minister. It is still hoped here that an agreement will be reached directly between France and Germany, as otherwise a long diplomatic struggle disadvantageous to all is foreseen.

OUT OF SEASON.

Mrs. H. H. Uppe-Deer, did you see any of those fine old aqueducts while you were in Italy?

Mrs. New-Rich—Never seen a duck. And while we was riding across Germany we kept a lookout for some of them German peasants but I never seen such a scarcity of fowl no place—Kansas City Drovers Telegram.

MINISTER WILL LEAVE WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Mr. A. Grop, who has been here since 1889 as Minister from Norway and Sweden, and who is a Norwegian, has engaged steamer passage for next Tuesday. He is returning home to personally learn the situation. When he called at the State Department to take leave of the officials he had not made up his mind as to his future course of action.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

W. E. DARGIE, President

Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

The True Principle of Unionism.

Charles W. Post, who has just succeeded D. M. Parry as president of the National Citizens' Industrial Association, does not share his predecessor's antipathy to labor unions as such. Mr. Parry holds to the theory that the principle of unionism is bad, and that unions are therefore to be opposed and broken up. His attitude is one of unalterable antagonism to unions, no matter what they do. Mr. Post does not subscribe to Mr. Parry's views. On this point he states explicitly that he believes labor organizations to be not only right and proper, but under existing conditions necessary. He says he is an ardent "admirer of the union known as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers," which he alleges to be conducted on a high plane of wisdom and liberality.

In defining his attitude toward labor unions, Mr. Post says: "So long as the organizations of capital exist, organizations of labor should exist." This is a fair statement of a fair proposition. The same right and the same necessity exist on both sides. Mr. Post adds: "I look forward hopefully to the time when careful, intelligent, honest men will be selected as the leaders of trade unions, and that members of the unions shall retain the governing power, for we see on all sides the most villainous abuse of power centered in the hands of a few irresponsible, unworthy men; unions must be cleansed and these men driven out of power before the average labor union can win its way back to the esteem of the people."

It is refreshing to find an employer who can combat vicious tendencies and evil policies without becoming an enemy of organized labor. Mr. Post discerns that the trouble must not be ascribed to the principle of unionism, but to unwise policies and evil counsels in particular instances. Men like Shea and Sam Parks injure unionism because they pervert its principles and misdirect its energies. Parks made a corrupt use of his powers and Shea has brought discredit on the Teamsters' Union by deliberately encouraging violence and lawlessness. Both men resorted to criminal methods—one to line his own pocket and the other to carry his point. Both failed, not because the principle of unionism is wrong, but because they did the very thing labor was organized to prevent—namely, oppression and corruption. The fundamental principle of unionism is to prevent industrial slavery. In striving to liberate the wage earners, the unions insist upon fair treatment, good wages and decent hours of labor. To this every right-thinking man should say amen. As Mr. Post says, the difficulty is to prevent the powers of the unions being perverted and turned to the destruction of the principles unionism seeks to advance.

After four years haggling in the courts of Canada it has been decided that Greene and Gaynor can be extradited for trial in the United States. These men jumped their bail after being indicted for complicity in the gigantic frauds of Captain Carter, who was the government officer in charge of the harbor improvements at Savannah. The United States authorities have been trying for four years to get Greene and Gaynor back for trial, but they had plenty of money and they found the lawyers and courts of Canada sympathetic and indulgent. It is frequently stated that justice is much more prompt and sure-footed in Canada than it is in the United States, but the experience our government has had in the Greene and Gaynor case does not bear out the assertion. Canadian law is about as prolific in technicalities as the American codes and Canadian lawyers appear to be fully as ingenious and unscrupulous as their American prototypes.

When the result of the school census taken in Vallejo this year was announced it gave great dissatisfaction because the enumeration did not tally with the general growth of the community. It belied the new building, the postoffice receipts, the registration and all other collateral facts bearing upon the number of inhabitants. A new census was ordered taken, which showed 287 more children of school age than was shown by the first census. Vallejo's experience corresponds precisely with Oakland's, save that no second census was taken in this city. Had one been taken we are confident that the result would have been the same as the result at Vallejo. It is preposterous that a city can increase its population by from 5000 to 7000 and not increase the number of school children by more than 55.

An Object Lesson For Oaklanders.

Oaklanders who have lately visited Tacoma have been struck by the fine city hall which the people of that enterprising city have erected. It is a spacious, imposing structure of the modern type, constructed of the most enduring materials. It is an ornament to the city which adds to the respect every visitor feels for Tacoma. It gives the city an air of dignity and solid prosperity not to be conveyed by words. It is an object lesson in thrift and enterprise. It is a physical proof that Tacoma is abreast with the times and is financially prosperous.

Returning home the Oaklanders who have admired this handsome evidence of Tacoma's civic progress draw with a sense of shame and vexation a contrast between it and the ancient, shabby, inadequate wooden structure that is called by courtesy a city hall in Oakland. Inwardly they confess that the people of this city have not risen to their opportunities or the necessities of the occasion. If Tacoma's fine municipal building is such a flattering advertisement for that city, what a poor advertisement for Oakland must be the antiquated, crazy wooden structure at the head of Washington street?

Oakland is older than Tacoma. It is larger than Tacoma. It is wealthier than Tacoma. But Tacoma not only has a city hall that figuratively makes Oakland look like thirty cents, but it has public parks and well improved streets. Its people have set their house in order. By collective action its citizens have advertised to the world that they are progressive and public-spirited.

Surely Oakland can do what Tacoma has done. There is no valid reason why this city should not erect a city hall that will adorn the city and be commensurate to its needs and importance. Is there not some way to rouse the public spirit of our citizens to action?

ADAMS WAS A MONARCHIST

In discoursing upon the monarchical tendencies of Alexander Hamilton, THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE might also pause to remember that John Adams, the second President of the United States, was afflicted similarly. In fact he once stated that a monarchy was the only fit and proper form of government—a statement he was in the habit of denying until a woman proved it on him from his own letters.

There are plenty of Hamiltons and Adamsses in the United States today—lacking their brains, and being propelled by sycophancy and snobbery into a position in which the dead at one time undoubtedly really believed.—Sacramento Bee.

Mrs. Guffey—George, dear, here's the bill for my Easter bonnet. Mr. Guffey—Eighty-three dollars? Well, now, that's reasonable enough.

Mrs. Guffey—Oh, George! Are you going to break it to me that I can't go to the seaside this summer?

An astronomer in Arizona has been taking photographs of the canals on Mars. It will be some time before astronomers in Mars can take photographs of a canal on Panama.—San Bernardino Times-Index.

THE LIVING OF LIFE

If, when the Spring hath kissed the Earth so warmly
That, smiling, it breaks forth in blushing flower,
Thou does not feel, each year, Life's deepest yearning,
And Love's ecstatic, magic welding power,
Thou hast not lived.

If when each season comes in turn so strangely,
Unfolding Nature's laws in beauty shrined,
Thou art not thrilled with full profound conviction,
That these are thoughts of an Eternal Mind,
Thou hast not lived.

If music spoke to you so sweetly,
A poet's thought, some dream of painter's eyes,
But thou hast found thy soul in rapture trembling,
And taking wing, as 'twere to Paradise,
Thou hast not lived.

If Friendship whispered not to thee so fondly,
But that thou wast a brother to thy friend,
Uplifting and enshrining him in trouble,
So far thy power and fortune might extend,
Thou hast not lived.

If thou hast never loved a soul so deeply,
That for its peace thou wouldst not glad have died,
If thought or memory of that loved one's vision
Hath not e'er since thee blest and purified,
Thou hast not lived.

If Duty ne'er hath called to thee so strongly,
That thou wouldst not have battled on its side,
And standing bravely all alone if need be,
Defined what fortune might for thee betide,
Thou hast not lived.

If joy or grief of man hath left thee coldly,
The pain of beast, the song of bird above,
If thou hast not the tender heart throb pitying,
Proclaiming kinship of a deep world-love,
Thou hast not lived.

If thou hast schooled and trained thy soul so nobly,
Exhaling it with each refining grace,
That thou might'st yield each thought and each emotion,
In consecration to the human race:
If thou hast grasped the truth of God so clearly,
That thou dost see Him in each atom's strife;—
If thou hast ear for what all Nature's speaking:
That life is love and Love is quivering Life,
Then thou hast lived.

LOUIS R. EHRICH.

PEANUT CAUSE OF FIGHT?

DEPUTY CONSTABLE SHERBOURNE MAKES ATTACK ON AGED MAN.

In the little town of Melrose, the heart of many a joke because of its seeming quietness, feuds are numerous and some of the inhabitants are not so peaceful as they appear to strangers.

A neighborhood row, the result of ill feeling between two families of the little town, was exploited yesterday in Judge Henry A. Melvin's department of the Superior Court, and after court had adjourned another burst forth which was not down on the program. Mrs. Laura Stickney's suit against J. P. Brevoort for $10,000 for maliciously charging her with being insane was on for trial.

After court had adjourned for the day, Deputy Constable W. W. Sherbourne, an appointee of Constable Lane of Oakland township, and one of the witnesses for the plaintiff in the damage suit, assaulted aged Albert Criven, subpoenaed in behalf of the defense, with a brickbat.

The two men were on Broadway, near Sixth street, when Sherbourne approached Criven and struck him a sharp blow on the face, cutting the older man's nose. Criven, owing to his old age, as long as he could, but he was finally knocked to the sidewalk by one of his assailant's stiff arm jolts.

Bystanders interfered as soon as possible and Sherbourne was placed under arrest by Detective Quigley. Criven was cared for by friends. He said he would swear out a warrant today charging Sherbourne with battery.

Sherbourne was asked why he struck Criven, and he answered that the latter had thrown a peanut at him. Criven says he did nothing of the kind, and he cannot explain Sherbourne's attitude toward him.

All the residents of Melrose were at the Court House, waiting to give testimony for one side or the other in the damage suit. The following testified: W. W. Sherbourne, Frank Shultz, Lucy Shultz, Mrs. Kate Gilbert, Joseph Carroll, J. L. Carroll, A. L. Crane and Joseph Graft. They all stated that they believed Mrs. Stickney was sane and harmless and a law-abiding citizen. Some of them said they had seen the Brevoort family stand across the street and make faces at the old lady.

A son of Mrs. Stickney asserted that the principal bone of contention in the feud was a vacant lot, upon which he and his mother had a lease, and which the Brevoorts wished to trespass upon.

CONTRACTS FOR NEW ROAD

WESTERN PACIFIC WILL RUSH THE WORK OF CONSTRUCTION.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Contracts let for the construction of the Western Pacific road require the completion of 850 miles of the road in the fastest time on record. The line is to be built to the western terminus on San Francisco bay before June 1, 1907. Not a spadeful of earth has been turned. The system is to be completed in 18 months. At the rate of nearly forty-five miles a month. To this end the system must be built in sections. Bases of operation will be at points on the rival railway. The Harriman line will transport men, material and equipment for the building of the Gould line. Over 100,000 tons of steel rails and over 3,000,000 railroad ties must be carried into the field. The Western Pacific is desirous to save the Missouri Pacific from the fate of a local railroad. Alone, the Missouri Pacific stands in constant jeopardy.

The wisdom of the Gould plan is questioned in the railroad office. With its network of central lines in Missouri, Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, and with its strong Chicago line, Gould can undoubtedly support both the Gulf and Pacific routes. The cost of the latter is certainly heavy, but the need for it is imperative.

QUEER NATURAL HISTORY. In the town of Merriwa, in New South Wales, a plague of mice is disturbing the people. About 10,000 mice were killed in four nights in one store. Upward of 500 were captured while a cricket bag was being unrolled. Four or five bushels of oats in a bag were appropriated by the mice in a night. A local well ceased to yield water and on examination was found to contain a solid mass several feet deep of dead mice. Food, water and bedding are overrun, contaminated and injured. The townspeople are fighting the terrible little pest every night and day, but at last accounts they had made little impression upon the swarms of vermin.

Alderman E. E. Phillips of Bath, England, formerly Mayor of that city, says that the other morning he saw an assembly of rooks in the trees surrounding his home. The birds, about 100 in number, appeared to hold a court-martial on three wrongdoers. Suddenly they fell upon the three victims who soon dropped dead into the gardens below. One had a broken and lacerated wing, another a lacerated wound in the throat and the third a severe injury to the head. Mr. Phillips cannot say what the offense was, but he suspects that jealousy was at the bottom of it.

On the sands near Marske-by-the-Sea, Yorkshire, England, the other day, a large crab was seen running along the beach. It was very small for its kind. The crab had caught the bird by its leg, and so much was it struggling to get free that once it lifted the crab several inches off the ground. The crab eventually let the bird go and ran away.

PAUPERS GO ON A STRIKE

REFUSE TO MAKE BREAD UNLESS THEY ARE PUT ON PAYROLL

NEW YORK, June 8.—Considerable merriment has been caused by a strike of paupers in a county almshouse just outside Jersey City. The men detailed to act as bakers organized and elected a board in charge of the institution that his fellows would not knead the almshouse dough until their names were put on the payroll with the attendants and other employees.

The delegate explained to the commission that the bakers were entitled to pay, because, like many other paupers, they do not desert the institution during the summer months to recuperate at the seashore and in the mountains, but remain at their duties in the bakehouse and work faithfully for the county. The commission rejected the demands and informed the strikers that they would be put to work in the stone quarries if they do not return to work in the bakehouse.

NEW YORK AND BELGIAN CAPITALISTS BACK OF NEW ROAD.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A special to the World from Norfolk, Va., says: New York construction companies and Belgian capitalists are said to be back of a project to establish an air-line transcontinental railroad system between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, the Eastern terminus to be Norfolk and the Western terminus San Francisco. As outlined by the chief engineer of the company, J. B. Marsh, now in this city, the project will embrace reaching New York from Norfolk by water, a distance of 305 miles, in eleven hours, and from Norfolk to San Francisco by land, a distance of 2,684 miles, in eighty hours. The total distance by this route is 2,989 miles, which is 413 miles shorter than any existing route, and the time thereby would be sixty-three hours less than the present schedule.

Sack of the project, according to Marsh, are J. Alden Gaylord & Co. of New York, bankers, brokers and promoters. The scheme embraces a railway company capitalized at $100,000,000 in bonds and $100,000,000 in stocks, and a terminal company with a capitalization of $50,000,000 in bonds to be controlled by the railroad.

The corporation is the Virginia, Missouri and Western Railroad Company, recently chartered under the laws of the State of Tennessee. Interested in the project is said to be the Belgian Steel Company, which is backed by the Belgian government and seeks to enter the United States by furnishing steel rails for the double tracking of the road from Norfolk to San Francisco. It has agreed to take two-thirds of the bonds of the road. The remaining bonds have been bid for

HE MEASURES POETRY BY MACHINERY.

Professor at University, Whose Fame Has Spread, is Called to South.

BERKELEY, June 8.—Professor James Main Dixon, whose experiments in the department of philosophy at the University of California to prove that the rhythm of poetry is regulated by heart beats of the writer have attracted attention the world over, has accepted a call to take charge of the department of English of the University of Southern California.

Professor Dixon's work in the South will begin next fall. The institution has its college of liberal arts in Los Angeles, and the new buildings for the college, now in course of construction, are to be occupied by the faculty next fall. The Southern Californians are assured that in securing Professor Dixon they have added a notable figure to their ranks.

Dr. Dixon's experiments in Professor Howison's department here have included a search for the foundation principles underlying the varying lengths of the "psychological pulse" in poetry. He has had as coworkers Professor Dunlap and Instructor Winch. They have utilized machinery especially constructed for the purpose, which was designed to help show the relation of heart beats to the reading of verse. Both Dixon and Dunlap believe that there is a disordered human pulse, and by testing the variations they in a multitude of individual cases they expect to discover that Poe gave it as his opinion that the metrical foot was founded, fundamentally, on time relations and that these time relations were regulated by pulsations of the human body. Oliver Wendell Holmes, they assert, came to the same conclusion as stated in one of his essays.

By the use and combining of four pieces of machinery Professors Dixon and Dunlap, the syllables of person used as subjects are recorded side by side with the subject's heart beats, so that the connection is scientifically established.

While Professor Dunlap has aimed to show by the experiments in a given psychological group, stress, pulse and breathing coincide, Professor Dixon is attempting to decide exactly what are the reasons for the variations in the length of the metre. He is dealing not only with the simple experiments, but with the emotional characteristics of the verse. The discovery of some psychological law which regulates the length of a verse is his ultimate aim.

Professor Dixon, an honor graduate of St. Andrew's University in Scotland, came to this country as an assistant professor in the department of philosophy of that University, and later as professor of English in the Imperial College in Tokyo, Japan. He founded the Ladies' Institute in Tokyo in 1887, and a year later was decorated by the Emperor of Japan for his services in the educational field in Japan. For 9 years he was professor of English in the Washington University in St. Louis, and has just completed the manuscript for a volume on Matthew Arnold.

ORDERS FOR FAST TRAIN

WIRELESS TELEGRAMS ARE CAUGHT BY LIMITED.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Wireless telegrams were sent to and from the Alton Limited train today when it was running at the rate of a mile a minute from here to St. Louis. So satisfactory was the test that President Felton has decided that all passenger trains on the Chicago and Alton Railroad shall be equipped to send and receive wireless messages.

Tomorrow wireless messages will be exchanged between Alton Limited trains northbound and southbound, while both are running at full speed, while one is running and the other standing still and when both trains are stopped. Wireless messages also will be sent to both trains from Chicago, Springfield and St. Louis and from the trains to these three cities.

The main object of the Alton road in equipping its passenger trains for receiving and sending wireless messages is to still further decrease the risk of accident. Including this the Alton will have four distinct systems for insuring the safety of trains.

The first system is the original train order issued by the dispatcher for the movement of each train. The second is a station or manual block system, under which the movement of trains is directed by station agents acting under telegraph orders or standing rules. The third system is an electric or automatic signal which maintains at least a safe distance between two trains running on the same track, unless the signals are disregarded by the engineer and crew.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 365 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, indigestion or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MRS. GREEN IS STRIKEN AFTER ALIGHTING FROM A CAR.

Ms. Lucinda Green of 265 Second street suffered a partial stroke of paralysis while alighting from a car at Broadway and Fifth streets last night.

When taken to the receiving hospital she had lost control of her right side and was unable to remember her name and where she lived. It was finally found that her name was Lucinda Green and by aid of a directory her home was located at the above named place.

She had been up town evidently shopping for her hand-bag contained two purses, in one of which was a considerable sum of money.

After a rest in the hospital she was taken home by the police.

A bystander said that the woman after getting off the car walked to the sidewalk and then seemed to stumble and fall. When she did not rise at once several pedestrians went to her assistance and Sergeant Lynch, who was in the vicinity, took charge of her and had her taken to the hospital and afterwards to her home.

IN FAVOR OF WESTERN PACIFIC

SALT LAKE CITY, June 9.—At a meeting held here yesterday, a majority of the stock of the Rio Grande Western Railway was voted by Juel F. Valle, general counsel of the Rio Grande lines, and John B. Andrews, assistant to the vice-president.

No statement of the business transacted at the meeting was issued, and reporters were informed that no statement would be made for several days. William F. Colton, assistant secretary and cashier of the Rio Grande lines, who was secretary of the meeting, stated that the stockholders voted to accept a number of contracts that have a bearing on the construction of the Western Pacific Railroad, but that this meeting was merely preliminary to other meetings that are to follow, including the coming meeting of the Western Pacific stockholders at San Francisco.

After the meeting it was rumored that a majority of the Rio Grande Western stock was voted yesterday in favor of guaranteeing the interest on the $50,000,000 of bonds issued some time ago for the construction of the Western Pacific. This report, however, could not be verified.
